“ I had the joy of teaching Hayden English in high school. He was such a fun, quietly benevolent presence in the classroom. He didn't talk much, but it was clear he had a rich inner world. His writing was always interesting to read, and I enjoyed it very much. I wish I could remember specific things to share. He often brought his band instrument to class.

I ran into him a couple of times once he was in college. He was the same wonderful, pleasant, quietly humorous person as always. I am very proud of him. He seemed the type of person who is just good to know. I wish his family and friends the very best. I cannot imagine the loss. Hayden will always be remembered warmly.

“ Hayden was an exceptional young man and student. I truly enjoyed his wit and laid-back personality in class. He positively influenced his younger siblings with his humor and chill manner as I see these same traits in Logan and Kaylynn. He will be greatly missed by all who have known him.
