“ I wish I could put into words what W meant to me. We were such close friends for about ten years during my Sundowner days. He was always so helpful and kind to me...in a big way. Once he drove to Rochester, MN to bring me home after I was dismissed from the Mayo Clinic. Once he surprised me by building a small porch with stairs and a railing to help me after a surgery. That porch was so solidly built that I used to tease him that in case of a tornado, I would seek shelter under it. Once he drove to Tucson with Gale and me to swap cars with my parents. The list goes on and on. He also, on two occasions that I know of, took single moms-to-be under his wing and bought them EVERYTHING on their wish-list, because he said he admired them for keeping their babies. W was also the smartest person I ever knew...oh, the lively debates we would get into! RIP, sweet W. The world was a better place with you in it. My heart goes out to all of his family.

“ Dear Connie and family, our hearts are breaking at the news of Bill's call "home" all too soon, but no one is missing him more than each of you. Bill was one of the kindest, most sincere friends I've ever known, always making everyone else laugh and feel at ease. Our class of '69 reunions will never be the same with him there with us. Hang tight to the wonderful memories you have and to the faith you have in knowing you will be together again. Praying for peace and comfort in the coming days; we love you so much.

“ I met W while completing the MBA program at PSU. I only have one faded picture from a graduation party we hosted but W was front and center wearing a tuxedo T-shirt. I remember he was a lot of fun and am saddened to read of his passing. It has been more than 30 years, but I am glad I got to know him. Peace.

“ Hello, My name is Brian Jones and I have been a friend of "WW" for most of my life. I was sadden by the news of his passing. I was notified by my brother, Brent, who stills lives in the Neodesha area. I remember great times together in grade school and then on to Neody high school. I am a better person from being around him. Sincerely, Brian Jones, Snohomish, Washington.
